JOB OFFERS: W

The Environmental Governance Institute (EGI) is a legally registered not-for-profit organization based in Buea, whose mission is to reform environmental governance in Cameroon.

Our range of programs is aimed at enabling communities to participate in, and to influence how natural resources are governed. More importantly, we are keen on empowering communities as a means to ensuring that they benefit from rights-based management of natural resources and environmental governance.

We generate up-to-date, accurate data on the state of the environment and natural resources and their governance to inform policy development. In this way, we will foster socio-economic growth in a way that is equitable and that does not compromise environmental sustainability.

To reinforce our implementation team, EGI is currently recruiting staffs for the following positions:

1. Community Development Officer (CDO)
2. Research and Policy Officer (RPO)

All interested candidates are required to submit

- a detailed CV, including contact details of two (02) referees
- a cover letter of no more than two (02) pages in length to appalications@engov-institute.org by November 30 at the latest. Late submissions will not be accepted. Hard copy submissions will NOT be considered either in this phase of the selection. All submissions should be in an easily readable form, i.e. minimum font size of 12 and 1.5 line spacing. The only acceptable document formats are: MS Word or portable document format (pdf).

To request for the full job descriptions for both advertised positions, send a short message to applications@engov-institute.org

Alternatively, please download the job descriptions from: www.engov-institute.org/

NB: Please note that the job descriptions cover the main tasks assigned to each position and convey the spirit of the sort of tasks that are anticipated proactively from staff. Other tasks may be assigned as necessary according to organizational needs.
